Dear MTI MERC Review Team,

I'm pleased to recommend Shashwath Udaya Kumar, who worked with Apriqot as a software engineer on the prototype of our public health technology platform.

Shashwath took the time to understand our company and its goals, building features that advanced our platform. His work strengthened the platform's architecture, testing, and security and also contributed to the development of a more efficient development process. He collaborated effectively with our team and explained complex technical concepts in ways that our non-technical team members could understand.

He was reliable, communicated clearly, and took ownership of problems from start to finish. He also understood the importance of privacy and compliance in public health and approached his work with these considerations in mind. He was easy to work with, responsive to feedback, and consistently contributed valuable ideas and insights.

I would recommend Shashwath to any Maine business seeking a capable and trustworthy technical consultant.

Sincerely,

Nicole Hewes
