

Jodi-ann Johnson is an exceptional professional who excels in executing multifaceted initiatives. She and I worked together at WEX for over four years and her ability to bring structure and clarity to complex projects helped guide us through periods of significant change and ambiguity. Jodi-ann is highly client-focused, demonstrating strong consultative skills and effectively managing conflicting priorities. Her expertise in navigating organizational and business change is evident through her experience in corporate planning, business operations, organizational design, and change management. She thrives in dynamic environments and has successfully led both organizational and digital transformation initiatives, including the implementation of new technologies and processes.

Jodi-ann's strategic planning and execution skills are remarkable. She excels at developing and implementing strategic plans, policies, and procedures that enhance efficiency, reduce costs, and support organizational objectives. As a skilled leader, Jodi-ann is passionate about fostering a collaborative and high-performing team environment. She has successfully led cross-functional teams and built strong relationships with stakeholders at all levels. Jodi-ann Johnson is a true asset to any organization, and her contributions are invaluable.

Sincerely,

Andy Schwarcz
