

Strategies+ Client Reference 2

I started working with Donna a couple of months ago after several industry peers recommended her. I like how efficient and direct she is - when working with a consultant, time is money. In these two short months, she has already helped us implement some great changes to our sales efforts and sales materials. I appreciate her willingness to be hands on, including writing and editing where needed.

As a busy professional, her willingness to help translate her ideas and suggestions into actual materials was incredibly valuable and meant that things happened sooner than they would've otherwise.

We've now turned our attention to our websites, and she's offered several helpful suggestions to make it easier for potential customers to understand the immense value of what we have to offer.
