

Conscious Revolution Client Reference

Michael Sellinger | President & CEO | Bachmann Industries, Inc.

I feel incredibly blessed to have had the opportunity to meet Tara Jenkins and work with Conscious Revolution. Bachmann, as an organization, cares deeply about our team and their continued growth through 'outside the box' thinking, reading, learning and overall stretching of knowledge and capabilities. One of our team members had previously worked with Conscious Revolution and recommended that we consider having them come in for one of our monthly team meetings as an outside speaker. I jumped at the idea, but frankly did not fully understand the true opportunity this would create. Tara came and spoke with our company offering new energy and perspective from outside the organization. Her presentation inspired our team and quickly demonstrated a compassionate wisdom of healthy personal and business perspective. That day lead to what is now an ongoing relationship of coaching and collaboration that challenges me and our company to reach new levels of excellence in how we continue to grow and serve others. Everyone needs mentors, coaches and friends in their life. With Tara Jenkins and Conscious Revolution I have found a remarkable blend of all three!
