We are a small creative production house that works with Danner, Mystery Ranch, YETI, Sitka and other brands in the outdoor space. We've worked with Al James on and off for almost ten years. Whether it's a book project, a film treatment, interview questions, creative direction for a film — no matter what, Al jumps in with positive energy, deep storytelling experience and sharp writing and creative instincts. He's been a part of both our passion projects like Will To Live and ground-breaking hunting films like Sitka's How Far We've Come. We are always looking forward to the next project where we can collaborate with Al and bring him along for the ride. He's helped bring ideas to full creative fruition and helped us make some of our most impactful and engaging work.
