Mac McCabe References

Mac McCabe helped our company in the beginning stages, as we were trying to get our head around complicated budgetary and financial modeling needs. He provided the support in a thorough manner, with patience and time for explanation, and he did so affordably and delivered many times the value of the cost. Mac is a confidant, a cheerleader, a level setter, and a knowledgable resource for our company as we build out a vision for a future. He asks the right questions and challenges assumptions, so that our pro forma is one upon which we can execute.
