

Project Solvers

Bringing your programs & projects to life.

I have had the privilege of working with Alice Massimi, an exceptional communications specialist whose expertise has proven invaluable to numerous organizations. Alice possesses a remarkable talent for transforming complex information into compelling narratives that position her clients as industry authorities. Her thoughtful approach to conducting interviews allows her to extract insights that others might miss, seamlessly weaving multiple perspectives into cohesive editorial content.

What distinguishes Alice is her ability to craft diverse content—from press releases and op-eds to blogs and editorials—while maintaining a consistent brand voice throughout. I've been particularly impressed by her skill in asking probing questions that delve beyond surface-level information, resulting in stories with genuine depth and impact. Alice is reliable and demonstrates exceptional organization and professionalism. I wholeheartedly recommend Alice to any organization seeking to elevate their communications strategy and storytelling capabilities.
