

I've worked with Amber Rogals on multiple photography and videography projects for The Maine Pie Co. Each time, I've been impressed by both her creative work and her process. She always exceeds our expectations.

Amber turns a shot list and a few general requests into a beautiful photoshoot. For our projects, this involves many steps: traveling to pick up product, baking the pies, organizing props, sourcing models, staging the shoot, and finally editing the photos and videos.

Amber always delivers the creatives on time, and she communicates with me and other members of the team throughout the process. We use her creatives in almost every marketing campaign we run. And we haven't considered working with any other photographer since we began working with Amber.

I highly recommend Amber as a service provider for MERC. She would be an asset to any Maine-based business (and beyond) seeking photography or videography.
